In order to keep a natural healthful activity of the order to keep a natural healthful activity of the system we must resort to artificial means. For this purpose Schenck's sea weed tonic is very effectual. A few doses will create an appetite and give fresh vigor to the enervated body. For dyspepsia, it is invaluable. Many eminent physicians have doubted whether dyspepsia can be permanently cured by the drugs which are generally employed for that purpose. The sea weed tonic in its nature is totally different from such drugs. It contains no corrosive minerals or acids; in fact it assists the regular operations of nature, and supplies her deficiences. The tonic in its nature so much resembles the gastric juice that it is almost identical with that fluid. The gastric juice is the natural solvent which, in a healthy condition of the body causes the food to be digested; and when this juice is not excreted in sufficient quantities, indigestion, with all its distressing symptoms follow. Committee to Wait on Vice-President M'Ghee To-Day and Ask that Wages be Rated as on Other Home

No Fears of a Strike-A Good Under standing Prevailing Between Officers and Men-Idle, but Alarming Rumors.

A variety of rumors prevailed yesterday relative to intended strikes on the Louis-ville and Nashville and Great Southern rail-road at this place. It was reported that both passenger and freight-trains on these roads would be doubtless interrupted in their schedules, but these rumors proved to be exaggerations of fancy. Many persons willing to precipitate a strike, and who would induce riots in order to plunder and enrich themselves, take pains to create and start alarming rumors. Memphis has so far avoided anything like the turbulent spirit which has visited other communities, and while the people here very generally sympa-thize with the less than half-paid laborers, they are free from anything that would cause disorder or bring about mob law. It was re-ported that the employes of the

The Memphis and Charleston Road has not escaped the demands of its employes for more pay. Yesterday there were rumors that the employes of this road would hold a meeting and demand the restoration of wages which existed prior to the reduction in May. This rumor proved true, for late yesterday afternoon the shopmen held a meeting at the roundhouse. The meeting was attended by about one hundred and seventy persons, including firemen brakemen, carpenters. cluding firemen, brakemen, carpenters, painters, blacksmiths, machinists, helpers and others employed in the service of the Memphis and Charleston railroad.

On motion, it was agreed to appoint a committee for this purpose and on resolutions. The chairman thereupon appointed on the committee Messrs. J. C. Ramsey, J. B. Holley and W. D. Minton. On motion, the chairman, C. F. Aaron, was added to the committee, which was instructed to draft resolutions, and through Mr. Bufford to present the same to the general manager.

The meeting passed a resolution demanding the restoration of the former wages, and that the same be duly drafted and presented to the manager. A motion was made and adopted that the Appeal publish the proceedings of the meeting, which adjourned to six o'clock this evening. In order to under-

THE WAGES DEMANDED, by the employes, it is proper to state that the wages were reduced last May about ten per cent. The men in the shops are now allowed to work but nine hours a day. The rate of pay is as follows: Machinists, from $2 60 to $3 for ten hours work; blacksmiths, from $2 to $2.85 for ten hours work; helpers, $1.50 for ten hours work. As these employes work but nine hours a day, there is a corresponding reduction of wages. In the car department whose employes, since the first of this month whose employes, since the first of this month, have been working ten hours a day, the following wages are paid: Painters, from $2 to $2 50; carpenters from $2 to $2 50; laborers, $1. The pay before the reduction in May was as follows: Machinists, $3 15; carpenters, $2 75; laborers, $1 15. The brakemen now receive $1 30, and firemen $1 50 per day. Firemen on freight engines get pay only for the actual number of days work, which amount to eighteen days, or three trips a amount to eighteen days, or three trips a month. The rates demanded, as paid by the Mississippi and Tennessee railroad, are as follows: Machinists, $3 25; blacksmiths, $3 50; helpers, $1 75; carpenters, $3; painters, from $3 to $3 25; laborers, $1 25; firemen, $2. The section men on the Memphis and Charleston road average eighty cents day, laboring from sunup to sundown. cannot be known at present. Mr. M'Ghee, the vice-president and general manager of the company, declined to state last night what action he would take. The committee waited upon him, and presented the request of the employes, to whom he will return an answer to-day. It is proper to state that the request for the restoration of wages is so reasonable and couched in such language as to make it a subject for prompt consideration. It is hoped that the request of the employes of the Memphis and Charleston railroad will be granted. They only wish to receive the same wages as are paid by the two other local roads, and this request is neither unreasonable nor unnatural. The best of order and good feeling prevailed at the meeting, though its members evidence a determined spirit, for, as they assert, the question is one of bread for them and their dependent families. VAIDEN, July 24.—Candidates and delemeet in this place on Saturday next, July 28th, when it is expected there will be a full attendance. It is generally supposed that a goodly number of the voters of this end of the district are in favor of a primary election being held, as they think it would be the fairest way of expressing the wishes of the people, and it is the humble opinion of the writer of this that such will prevail. However, you shall be duly notified of the proceedings of our meeting. Our crop prospects were never better in lite, and the prayers of the industrious farmers now are that their products may bring average prices in return for their labors. It is true we have been needing a little more rain, and prospects are quite favorable that we will have quite sufficient yet, therefore we are gay and happy still; and when I use the word we, I allude to both the farmers and the laborers. As an evidence of their moving along smoothly together in this vicinity, it recalls to my mind a fact which was not one word uttered to mar the pleasure of the most humble being present. All of the ground, and during the whole day there was not one word uttered to mar the pleasure of the most humble being present. merchants and business men of the city, were cordially invited to attend. Dr. Sanderson and some others were there, and I have no doubt that had it not been on our busiest day of the week, and one other impossibility that happened, there would have been quite a number of the merchants there. The Vaiden brass band, kindly volunteered their services, free of charge, to play for them. The members of the band are all clerks for the above named firms, and were cheerfully permitted by the different firms a leave of absence for the same, and from the cheerfulness of each eye and the ring of their merry laughs, together with their many thanks to both citizens and band, their many thanks to both citizens and band, their kindness will not fail of its due appreciation until the last final spark of recollec-tion shall have left their minds. And I re-gard this as a living evidence that quiet now reigns throughout this vicinity, with no regrets at the carpetbaggers' exit; neither will the time be thought long if they never return. I forgot to mention that the Baptist Sabbath-school was ably represented by their superintendent, who deserves great credit—Henry Harper, an old colored citizen of this place and a wall toda citizen.

ndian Christities-The New Wisconsin-The Subject of Conversation by Summer Tourists. CHICAGO, July 21.—"Everywhere by turns and nowhere long," is the traveler's motto, yet one feels in duty bound to exhaust the resources of every stopping-place. I con-scientiously tried to do Madison; but when I found that, beside its intrinsic attractions, was called duly to order, and organized by electing Mr. C. F. Aaron chairman, Mr. J. C. Ramsey acting as secretary. The chairman stated that the object of the meeting was to appoint a committee to hold an interview with the general manager of the Memphis and Charlesion railroad, through Mr. Bufford, master-mechanic, and request him to advance the wages of the employes, so that they would be paid the same wages as are now paid the employes and Tennessee and Memthere were a series of adjunctive resources mer resort, it certainly answers that purpose very well. Turning my face northward, and my back on the fascinations of Devil's lake and the dales of the Wisconsin, after a few hours travel I reached Fond du Lac, at the end of Lake Winnebago. The city has about twenty thousand inhabitants, and has been wonderfully prosperous in the past, and in spite of the change in times and depression in the lumber interest, it still holds its own. There are several very extensive manufactories; Charles Myer's factory of sash, doors and blinds is the largest of the kind in the west; that is not all, it is the largest in the United States; more than that, it is the largest in the world; and if the inhabitants of any one of the other worlds could have anything to say on the subject, they would all concede its superiority over all. Mr. Meyer is plucky enough to add another extension and still be ahead. But this is weather when a hole in a wall is infinitely better than a door. I confess that I felt very little interest in Fond dy Lac, and in the past, and in the west is plucky enough to add another extension and still be ahead. But this is better than a door. I confess that I felt very little interest in Fond du Lac's commercial advantages. It has but little beauty to commend it to the visitor, yet it has such an abundant supply of pure, clear, healthful water that it has received the name "Fountain City." These fountains are, in other words artesian wells, and are all more or less words, artesian wells, and are all more or less medicinal. It is asserted that there are lomedicinal. It is asserted that there are lo-calities near the city where people never die, but, when they get tired of life, they move to another place. It seems as if Mother Nature had been busy through! the ages compound-ing and distilling her medicines, and was hoarding them in vast underground drug-stores. Here you have the carbonates, sul-phates and chlorides of lime, soda, magnesia, potash; also iron, bermine and fire carbonic acid, with many other things, especially sulacid, with many other things, especially sul-phur. A few years ago Mr. George Hunter accidentally struck a most valuable reservoir.

accidentally struck a most valuable reservoir. The other fountains of the city may have their own value, but this is the pharmacy of a double-distilled strength. The miraculous cures worked by these waters were so numerous that Mr. Hunter gradually dropped all other business. This season he has opened a large hotel, to which is attached that modern necessity, the Turkish bath, where the lame, the halt and the blind may have their afflictions removed. I drank the water, and found it rather agreeable to the taste, and if I had any cause for complaint there is no doubt but that I could have chronicled myself among the cured. I decided that when it came my turn to suffer from rheumatism, dyspepsia, or some other disease that fate had in store for me, I should try the prescription put up by rom an Appeal Correspondent.] GRENADA, Miss., July 24.—We sent you a telegram last night relative to our massmeeting, etc., in which we promised the proceedings in full by mail. As these proceedings are too lengthy to ask you to publish in full, we inclose you an extract from them, which we respectfully ask that you warmest appreciation the hearty manifesta-tions of support tendered our distinguished citizen, General E. C. Walthall, for the office of governor, by the voters from other portions of the State, and we deem it proper to declare—First—We believe he possesses in a preeminent degree those qualities, ability, integrity and personal magnetism which are needed to constitute a great leader.

Second—We sincerely believe he is the choice of a large majority of the Democratic voters of the State for the position.

Third—We have entire confidence in his power of mind and person to hold the reins of government, not only for the material inf government, not only for the material interest and prosperity of the State, but to keep intact and inviolable the Democratic party against any assault that may be made, either by Radicals or Independents. Fourth — Entertaining these views, and, furthermore, believing the time is fast approaching when a leader of this character will be indispensable, we hereby declare General Walthall to be our choice for governor, with perfect faith in his capacity to meet any emergency that may arise.

The above resolutions were received with the greatest enthusiasm, but General Walwas restored, spoke in substance as follows:
"I beg my friend as a personal favor to withdraw those resolutions. I appreciate his good will and that of this large crowd of my friends, who have already evinced in such flattering manner their desire to honor me by passing the resolutions. I do not desire offi-cial responsibility or anything involving lead-ership—especially at this critical juncture. You all know I am not a candidate for the governor's nomination, and I trust my name will not be brought before the State convenwill not be brought before the State convention, and would much regret, if under any circumstances the nomination should fall on me. When pressed to know, whether if it did, I would accept it, I have felt bound to say I would, though certainly in no expectation of such a contingency. I could not say less, for as a party man I recognize the party's right to assign its members to places they do not want to fill. I have never said more, it being my purpose not to utter a word or do any act which might tend directly or indirectly to put me in a position I do not desire."

The crowd clamored for a vote, and the mover insisted that his resolutions be acted upon, and they were carried unanimously, amid loud and prolonged cheers. This meet-ing was universally conceded to have been he largest mass-meeting or convention ever before held in our county, everything passing off quietly and harmoniously, and adjourn-ing in the greatest good humor at the evi-dence manifested of the determination, solidity and strength of the Democratic party in Grenada county. B. C. ADAMS, JR., S. S. ANGEVINE, Secretaries. only a household word, but a household rem-edy; its reputation being unsullied by adul-teration, and its tonicity as great as when first
